THERE will be some vacant chairs in the schools to day, and the camp meeting season hean't opened, either.

Mexico is beginning to wonder whether the American railroad isn't the advance guard of the army of occupation.

MARY ANDERSON, it is said, will make from $50,000 to $80,000 this year. A "star" who doesn't gather in $20,000 a year hasn't much luck. Surely here is a business which is not overdone.

THE Government crop reports for April brought too much encouragement to the country to suit the "bulls" of the gambling market, who insist that the Government is "off" in its estimate. The repor has interfered with some great scheme for making money by betting against the food rensessment an extra lift. In Roane county the Assessors increased the valuation 223 per cent. The high dignitaries at Wheeling looked on this and saw it was not well; whereupon they added 40 per cent, and Roane is not happy under the increased burden of 623 per cent. In Hardy the increase is 35 per cent, and ameeting of farmers is announced to consider the matter. The Moorefield Ecusiner, in its latest issue, remarks that "this extraordinary rise in real estate is not respect to the President of the United States."

The Webster County Echo says that 25 per cent, has been put on in that county, and adds: "So Lewis county is not alone in this outrage." The increase from the Wheeling end of the reassessment machine was 30 per cent. in Lewis, and we have recently seen from the Weston Republican and the Weston Democrat what Lewis thinks of it. The Weston Repubm, just at hand, says: "Real estate in Lewis county is now valued at more than it could be sold for on three years' time It might not have been thus if Lewis had

THE "FAC SIMILS" COMPANY.

Big Real Estate Fraud Uncarthed Washington, May 12.-The real estate fraud, which was exposed by the press some five years ago, is again in operation in a more dangerous form. On the person of members of the "Fac Simile" Company It might not have been titue it and it is a specific members of members of the of Washington, offering to dispose of a quantity of real estate notes at the rate of about two cents on the dollar. Samples o these notes were enclosed, and have been returned to the Treasury Departmen report betrue we shall hear her gentle for inspection. They bear so close a re semblance to the National bank bills in roice. The cheerful work goes on, with a good deal of mystery about it, but the end will come sometime, and then we can foot it all up and see how it looks in the lump. The Wheeling friends moved Greenbrier up 50 per cent, and this is the comforting way which the Independent looks at it in view of the approaching election for Congress:

This action seems to be greatly misunder tood by many of our people. They assume that an increase in the assessed value of the lands necessarily implies an increase of taxino. This is an entirely erroneous view of the subject. A certain amount of taxes must be raised and it is altogather immatrial to the tax-payer whether this amount of the tax-payer whether this amount of the subject. A certain amount of taxes with a face value of the subject. A certain amount of taxes with the tax-payer whether this amount of the tax-payer whether this amount of the subject. A certain amount of taxes with the tax-payer whether this amount of the tax-payer whether the tax that the tax the tax that t h $3,050, for which he asks $95, and explains that he had large quantities of them on hand unsigned, 175 of which he says are of the denomination of $500. He suggests that they could be used in organizing, a company to operate in real estate, and offers to supply orders in denominations ranging from $2 to $1,000. The engraving and vignettes are executed in very excellent style.

Architect Mill's Investigation. WASHINGTON, May 12.—The Secretary of the Treasury has received a letter from Mr. crease taxes more than five cents on the Murch, requesting that a subposna duces $100, making the present rate twenty-five tecum be issued to Supervising Architect cents. It refused for fear of arousing the Hill to produce certain papers which, he farmer; for the same reason that the predemand. Mr. Hill says that he has furdemand. Mr. Hill says that he has un-nished all the documents called for by Murch, except two; one of these is not in existence, and he knows nothing at all about the other. Secretary Folger said he would not act in the matter catti he could ascertain exactly what papers are needed, and what bearing they had upon the in-vestigation.

In the coal trade there was but little change within the last week. The monotony of the strike is varied by the mines which come out one day to resume work the next, but the general situation remains the same. At a meeting of the Sawmill-run miners held yesterday John Castelle was elected delegate to the formal notice that they would not pay more than 3 cents for mining, and the men rethan 5 cents for mining, and the resolved to stand out sgainst the reduction.

As both sides bold separate meetings tomorrow it is probable that a joint committee will arranged for a resumption of work or an early recourse to the tribunal plan.

Alexander Heron, Secretary of the Indi-ana State Board, under date of May 9, says: I have but little change to report in the prospect for the wheat crop in Indiana. The improvement is not so much as was estimated in the April report, and we place the figures a shade lower as to condition. In the Southwestern part of the State some good wheat is reported, but as a whole the good wheat is reported, but as a whole the crop is very discouraging. The season is at least ten days late.

Dis patches from the cotton growing region are to the effect that while the sesson is late the weather is at present good and the prospects of the growing crop are favora-ble. Wheat has been pretty firm during the week, being maintained by speculative holding in this country which has made prices relatively higher than in the foreign movement. Corn has also been maintained by speculation, the buyers believing that July will show so small an amount is first hands that it will command higher prices in that month.

The ocean treights market is stronger and higher. Considerable petroleum has been exported of late, and it is highly probable that the aggregate to date will equal if not exceed the heavy total shipped at the corresponding time in 1882. Full grain charters have not been frequent, but the ocean freights market has experienced a decided improvement.

There were 149 fallures in the United States reported during the past week, 17

States reported during the past week, 17 more than the preceding week, 31 more than the corresponding week of 1882 and 65 more than the same week of 1881.

The American pig iron market is weak notwithstanding the reduction of $2 pe ton recently made. Sales during the week have been small. Some cutting of prices is reported, and there are those who talk about $20 for No. 1. Scotch iron in this market is no better off. The arrivals during the week will not aggregate over one thousand tons, and a part of the was stored. The sales to arrive were very meagre. The market for mill iron in the east is somewhat firmer, owing to the prospect for a strike among the puddlers and other workers in the western mill district on June 1. The efforts of a compromise are reported to have, fallen through, and a strike on the ist ultimo is considered almost certain. There is also more firmness in the prices of manufactmore firmness in the prices of manufactured iron, dependent upon the same causes but no improvement in prices has been recorded. The steel-rail mills are, reasonably well employed, and the products thereof are firmly held at $38.00,439.00. Old rails

Ioratio Seymonr's Views on the Polit

New York, May 12.—The Mail and Ex-

ernor Seymour regarding the political situation. He was asked: "As a Democrat, and one whom you know Democrats revere, do you feel that Tilden is a man who could effect the unity NEW YORK, May 12.-The dispatches to of the Democratic elements of New York? "Tilden," answered the ex Governor, " an able man, but one whose habits of derstand, and the same characteristics may similar to his own."

"We have seen that both France and Germany have shown an inclination to shut out the products of our country. If Gladstone's administration should be overthrown and the Tory party should come into-power in Great Britain, it will probably impose tariffs upon our grain and other kind of food for export, for the land other kind of food fer export, for the land-holders of Britain are severely pressed by our competition. Those who oppose free trade in Britain are aided by the speeches and arguments of indiscreet high-tariff men in this country. All classes now study the prospect of the export of our products in making up their opinions as to the business prosperity of our country. If the policy of our Government aims at cutting off all imports it will end in the destruction of our export trade. I think this will be the principal subject of discussion in the near future. In the Presidential campaign next year, I think it will be the subject which will most occupy the public mind, without regard to party platforms. I think that the true polley is in adhering to the revenue tariff. I am friendly to the manufacturing interests. I think the great manufacturing interests. I think the grea danger to their success grows out of extreme views of men claiming to be their champions. If it is true that a sound pol-icy demands a protective tariff here, then it is true that it is demanded by the interit is true that it is demanded by the interests of all other countries. The discussion of this topic will be of good use in leading men from the minor subjects of partisanship, and will build up a class of political leaders who will not merely seek the spoils of office. Men do not make discussions; discussions make men, as was the case in the days of Webster, Clay, Calhoun, Van Buren and Wright. I conclude that Beck, of Kentucky, is a gentleman who may not be obscure in the discussion of these questions next year."

Mr. Seymour further said that he would advocate the law of Congress making it a crime for any resident within our borders to plan or aid in the execution of violent measures toward persons in this country.

measures toward persons in this country, or in any other country. This would at once be self protection, and at the same time an upright observance of the relations which should, if they do not now, exist between the United States and all other Powers.

Governor Seymour will be seventy-three years old on the last day of this month.

In the presence of the Diplomatic Corps, Cabinet Ministers, and Ambassadors. The Prince in reply to an address read by the Dukeof Richmond, declared the exhibition open. A finely trained chorus of five hundred voices, supplemented by a band of nearly a hundred pieces performed the national anthem with a great effect. A royal salite was fired at Hyde Park. The Archbishop of Canterbury in made a special prayer, musical selections from Goundo' and Mendelsohn were sung in and the procession again visited the exhibits of the foreign courts. The various galleries are not yet in perfect order, but enough has been done to render the exhibition worthy of its universal character. The horticultural gardens are in a splendid condition. South Kensington is alive with excitement.

Visitors From Marietta.

Yesterday morning the good steamer Courler touched at the levee about 10:30 o'clock, having on board about one hundred and fifty excursionists from Marietta. On the hurricane deck a Marietta brans band discoursed lively airs, the strains of which floating up the cross streets attracted a large crowd of loungers to the levee and fell barship on the earnotchurch goers. The excursionists left loungers to the levee and fell harship on the earn of church woers. The excursionists left Marietta at 10:30 o'clock Saturday evening. After arriving in this city they proceeded to take in what few sights are to be seen on Sunday. A large number took the Elm Grove line and visited Selbert's and Hornbrook's. Others visited friends. At 8 o'clock last evening they left for home. They all appeared to have enjoyed themselves and spoke very highly of the boat and her officers.

CHICAGO, May 13.-A Tucson, Arizona Crock. On May 13.—A Tucson, Arizona, special says: General Garcia's engagement with the Indians in Sonora has demonstrated that the band of renegade Apaches is much larger than heretofore supposed. The general idea has been that they numbered about 75. General Garcia estimates those on the west side of the Sierre Madre Mountains at 150 to 200, and those on the east side probably number up to three hundred. The country is most abrupt and difficult of access, and those who remember the Modoc war in the lava beds will appreciate the difficult task before General Crock. Churches-Loss of Life-Stories of KANSAS CITY, May 13 .- A destructive cyclone swept across the southern part of the city shortly after 5 o'clock this evening, unroofing or demolishing buildings for a distance of two miles, the track of th storm, ranging from a half block to two blocks in width. A number of persons were injured and some fatalities are re ported, but the loss of life is probably not o great as might be expected in view of the destruction of property. Nothing definite can be obtained, but the loss to proper-ty is estimated in the hundreds of thou-sands.

From early morning heavy showers fell at rion early morning neavy showers lef at intervals, accompanied at times by gusty winds. At about half past 4 the clouds, which had been especially threatening along the western horizon, gathered dense-ty over and a little west of Wyandotte. Out of them grew a dark, funnel-staped cloud which started northward across the farming lands west of Wyandotte, and crossing the Missouri River passed into the ountry northeast of the city. ninutes later a second cloud formed near

Then passing on it struck the summit of the bluff which marks the western line of the bluft which marks the western line of the city proper, at the corner of Dripps and Sixteenth street. Moving southerly, it passed along between Fifteenth and Sixteenth streets, veering slightly at times. The entire progress, from the beginning of the first to the end of the third cloud, occupied about half an hour.

LOSS OF LIFE AND PROPERTY.

At 11:30 o'clock three deaths had been reported and as many more not, libration.

At 11:30 o'clock three deaths had been reported and as many more not likely to recover. Many persons are more or less injured, but as reported only a few dangerously. The loss of property is now roughly estimated at $300,000. While none of the finest residences of the city suffered, yet many houses of well-to-do citizens are razed and cottages and shanties innumerable torn to pieces. The escape of those in the path of destruction is marvelous, and stopath of destruction is marvelous, and stories of almost miraculous delivery are beyond number. The Eoglish Lutheran, Church, corner of Oak and Fourth, a brick building, was completely wrecked, the walls seeming literally to fall into the earth. But fifteen minutes before a large Sunday school gathered in the building had been dismissed. Had the scholars been within the church, the loss of life must have been fearful.
